MUCH AFRAID.

The Marching Missouri Miners Threaten to Invade Leavenworth.

LEAVENWORTH, May 24.—Captain Ryan, the leader of the band of Missouri miners, who intend to invade this city this evening to stop the working miners, arrived here at noon to hold a conference with Mayor Dodsworth, thinking the citizens' committee did not mean what they said last night when the strikers' camp was visited near Kansas City, Kan.

The mayor reiterated the warning there given, and said the agitators must not enter the city.

Ryan has concluded to have his men go into camp south of the city and then enter by ones and twos tonight.

Excitement is general throughout the city, and if the bells sound the alarm, five thousand men will respond. The sheriff is wearing in 500 deputies and getting everything in readiness. A large number of extra police have been appointed and await orders at headquarters.

Ryan states his men will not offer to resist force, consequently there will be no bloodshed. Fully 700 of the 800 miners at work in three mines are dreading the approach of the mob.

ONE MORE CHICKEN FIGHT

This One Takes Place on the County's Property at the Fair Grounds.

Topeka sports gave a few of their friends the "tip" last night and invited them to attend a "cocking main" at the fair grounds. The battles were between Topeka and Olathe chickens, but after seven fights the "main" was declared a "draw," as Topeka had won three battles, Olathe three and the other was declared a "draw."

The pit was in the cattle shed and lights were furnished by coal oil lamps. When the Olathe people arrived on the grounds there was a controversy as to who should pay the expenses of building the pit. The Topeka men requested the Olathe crowd to "put up" for half the expenses. This made the Olathe sports mad and they picked up their chickens and started to leave the ground. They were finally prevailed upon to remain and the battles commenced about 10 o'clock and continued until 2 a. m.

Two Topeka chickens lost their lives and one Olathe bird will fight no more. There was some betting and it is thought the Topeka crowd came out ahead.

There were about fifty men of sportive tendencies present. The Topeka birds belonged to V. Kaczynski and Billy George and the Olathe crowd were headed by Bill Allen. Billy Duffy acted as time keeper.

Guilford Dudley, the fair grounds receiver, was not informed of the fact that the inflammable cattle sheds on the property in his charge, were being occupied by a gang of sports with coal oil lamps, but when he does learn of it he will doubtless want to know who is responsible. The insurance companies will also want to know. The grounds belonging to the county, perhaps the sheriff will want to know, too.

FOSTER WILL HEAR IT.

The Judge will Listen to Arguments in the Sanders Case.

Sanders army will not be released without a protest. United States District Attorney Perry arrived today from Kansas City and went at once to Judge Foster's residence.

Mr. Perry refused to consent to a release of all the men except a few of the leaders as suggested by Judge Foster. He takes the position that every man in the army should be held to answer before the United States court.

Judge Foster will now hear the applications for writs of habeas corpus.

ARMING EMPLOYEES.

The Rock Island Taking Measures Against Train Stealing.

Hugo, Colo., May 24.—Under Sheriff Malone of Lincoln county, has gone to Limon with commissions as special deputy sheriffs for all employees of the Rock Island and railroad running through Lincoln county.

They will be armed with repeating rifles, and will resist the Denver Communioners should they capture a train, as is feared by the railroad officials.

Death of Mrs. Buch.

Mrs. E. G. Buch died this morning at the family residence, 1336 Western avenue, North Topeka. She was in her sixty-fourth year. She has been the mother of eleven children, only two of whom are living now. These, with an affectionate husband, to whom she had been wedded for forty-four years, survived. At the age of sixteen she joined the Baptist church. For two years she has been a sufferer from consumption and death came to her as a happy release. She was a good woman and did what she could for others. The funeral will take place Friday, 9 a. m., at the home. The burial will be in the family cemetery at Dover.

LOCAL MENTION.

D. O. McCray and family have gone to Lawrence to attend a meeting of the Junior Order United Americans of which Mr. McCray is counselor.

M. J. Clark, foreman of the Santa Fe cabinet department, fell from a carriage, which he was building at his home, 907 East Eighth street, and broke three ribs.

The national association of charities now in session at Nashville, Tenn., has shown a disposition to come to Topeka next year if $800 could be guaranteed the association. Neither the mayor nor council are willing to make the guarantee and the association will probably find some other place for its meeting.

GOWNS FOR YOUNG GIRLS.

The figure on the left shows a diagonal serge of dark blue with bordering of light blue cloth and a blue sash. The central figure shows a pink cotton challis wrapper, trimmed with lace. The figure at the right represents a chocolate brown summer chemise, trimmed with silver castle braid. The corsage is a shirt waist of figured silk, gray and garnet. The belt is of brown raps ribbon with a silver buckle.

Eastward the Star of Suffrage.

The franchise is coming! It started hitherward from the west, and now another thunderous portent has arisen in New York, so near our city of sacred calm that we can no longer deaden our ears to the sound. When such otherwise respectable persons as Bishop Potter, Rev. Dr. Arthur Brooks, brother of Phillips Brooks, Rev. Dr. Huntington, Dr. Jacob, Frederic H. Conder and others commit themselves in a public meeting to ask that the word "male" be struck from the constitution, and when they are abetted by Judge Howland, Walter Damrosch, Mr. and Mrs. John Rockefeller, William D. Howells, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sage, Rev. Charles E. Eaton, Rabbi Gottheil, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. R. S. MacArthur, Mary Ames Dodge, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Rainsford, Mrs. Arthur Brooks, Joseph H. Choate and a host of others to whom we have been accustomed to go for properly stamped opinions, when these begin to fail us, where shall we go? Ward McAllister is left us, but we understand that the virus is extending even into his protected precinct. It really does seem as if we should have to vote.—Philadelphia Working Woman's Journal.

A Traveling Costume.

Homespun, showing a diagonal line of white and dark gray, resulting in a light gray effect, is much fancied for traveling gowns. The skirt, made to escape the ground, flares well at the bottom, but fits the figure easily at the top. Its finish about the lower edge is a heavy cording of gray velvet, a fashion much approved of by French dressmakers. The bodice worn with this skirt is a changeable silk, one of blue and gray. It is made with a yoke overlaid with gray passementerie, and it is confined at the waist by a belt of grosgrain ribbon. The sleeves fall below the long shoulder seams in a puff of the silk and are then shaped into deep cuffs fitted to the lower parts of the arms, and also overlaid with passementerie. The hat worn with this is an alpine one of soft gray felt, with a band of gray ribbon about it and having two small dark blue quills stuck in at one side. To throw over one on leaving the train, or if one should happen to be chilly, is a full, deep cape of the homespun, having a hood and a turn over collar. The entire cape and the hood are lined with changeable silk like that which forms the blouse.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Katherine Lauderdale.

Here is a story which F. Marion Crawford has been telling in Washington. Like every other man of prominence whose name is familiar to the reading public, Mr. Crawford is frequently asked for his autograph. With these requests he invariably complies. Last autumn, when his new story had been carefully thought out and the work was fairly under way, he received a letter from two girl students at Wellesley college containing a request for his signature. One of the letters was signed Katherine Lauderdale. To this and the accompanying letter a prompt reply was given. But the name haunted him. "Katherine Lauderdale!" It suggested refinement, cultivation, good looks, romance. It was just the name for the novel which he was writing. He sent "Miss Lauderdale" another letter. Would she permit him to call her story "Katherine Lauderdale?" By return mail came an impersonal reply. The young lady had no objection, and the book was so christened.—Boston Herald.

The Duchess of Edinburgh.

There is not much beauty of feature in the face of the Duchess of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha (Duchess of Edinburgh), but there is much intelligence and strength of character in her expression. This Russian lady has been an admirable wife and the most careful of mothers. She has devoted herself to her young daughters more completely than most mothers who are not of imperial birth. She has been with the little girls at their studies and their amusements alike. She has drilled them in drawing, played the piano accompaniments to their violin performances, supervised minutely their reading and examined them in their studies at regular intervals. She has carefully trained their intellects, not permitting them to neglect the graver studies for the more frivolous ones. It is thought that the third sister, Princess Alexandra, will enter the ranks of matrons next year, and that will leave the duchess with only one daughter at home. This is Beatrice, a pretty little maid of 10 years.—New York Tribune.

A Poor Princess.

The estate of the young Hawaiian Princess Kaiulani, the condition of which has just been reported upon by its trustee, A. S. Cleghorn, shows us that the British bred girl who gave Americans a peep at her a year or two ago has not very much royal pelf to sustain her title with. The inventory of the estate comprises a bushel basket of articles of jewelry, some sugar stock, a little real estate, and an interest in property left by her mother, the Princess Like-Like. The princess is intelligent and amiable, but ill fitted, with her English training, for life in the atmosphere of the provisional government.

She Purifies Both Parties.

A man recently returned from Wyoming, who has carefully studied the results of women's voting there, says the effect has been to purify both parties. The women were unmanageable by factions, and when a bad man was up would flock like sheep to the other side. It was found impossible to elect a bad man, and now both parties scour the country for men of good character for candidates.

Dimity Frocks.

Little dimity frocks are the daintiest of summer conceits, and the girl who couldn't look well in one of these lace trimmed fascinations had better give up trying and go in for a new line of business where no feminine fripperies are permissible.—New York Telegram.

RAILWAY TELEGRAPHERS.

Chief Ramsay Presents His Annual Report and Financials News.

DENVER, May 24.—In the convention of Railway Telegraphers today Grand Chief Ramsay presented his annual report. He congratulated the order on having obtained from railroads during the past year thirty-four wage schedules. The membership of the order had decreased but a critical period in its history had been passed.

The grand chief reviewed in detail the grievances adjusted during the year. He reported that he arrested the charter of Omaha division No. 2 because of the publication by it of a paper called the Wasp which belittled the grand officers and injured the order. This matter, he said, was now before the convention and it would have to pass judgment.

The grand chief opposed state divisions of the order, but favored state organizations. He also favored federation. Changes in the by-laws agreed upon by the grand officers of various railway organizations were recommended for passage.

Mr. Ramsay told in full the story of his indictment and acquittal on the charge of having conspired to cut the wires of the Cedar Rapids railroad with which the order was having trouble.

The convention today by a vote of 70 to 53, decided to seat Dr. Brown of Buffalo, manager of the campaign of Thos. B. McMahon for the position of grand chief. This is regarded as a victory for the anti-Ramsay forces.
